Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) Phase 1C

Location: Toronto, ON

Client: Infrastructure Ontario

Construction Manager: PCL Constructors Canada

Architect: Stantec Architecture

The CAMH Phase 1C redevelopment project consists of two modern buildings, 8 and 7-storeys respectively, along Queen Street West. The project will be 650,000 sq. ft. which will include inpatient/outpatient services, emergency care and therapeutic support, research and educational facilities. There will be new roads, parks and green space with the restoration of the heritage wall around the facility. The new buildings will facilitate recovery in a non-institutional, secure and welcoming way, by maximizing natural light, incorporating therapeutic art installations, and better integration within the community through green space and street-level retailers. The project is targeting LEED® Gold and is expected to open in Spring 2020.
